Research Interests

I am an applied statistician and quantitative ecologist with a specific interest in spatial and spatio-temporal statistics for ecology. My research focuses on species spatio-temporal distribution and population dynamics in a context of climate change and threats on ecosystems.

> Key words: hierarchical modeling, spatial and spatio-temporal statistics, statistical ecology, species distribution, population dynamics, climate change.

Positions & Education

2023– Associate Professor of Statistics, IUT Vannes, Université Bretagne Sud, Vannes, France.
GEODATICS team, Lab-STICC (UMR 6285).

2023 Postdoctoral Researcher, University of Washington / NOAA, Seattle, USA.
Species spatio-temporal modeling under climate change.

2019–2022 PhD, Ifremer / Institut Agro Rennes, France.
Spatio-temporal species distribution modeling; hierarchical model, preferential sampling, change of support.
